

The CAV directly measures the velocity of the corresponding LV through onboard sensors.

The CAV receives state measurements of the HDVs through V2V communication.

The CAV receives information from other CAVs via V2V communication under PLF topology.

